ABOUT ME

I am a self-taught developer. My Front End coding journey started at the beginning of 2020 when I decided to follow a 2 - month coding bootcamp. So far, I feel really interested in working with APIs and generating animations. In the future, I would like to learn more about HTML's canvas feature and how could I use JavaScript in order to create applications based on Virtual and Augmented Reality. Furthermore, I would like to learn a Node.js framework in order to understand the concepts of Back End architecture and being able to tackle more ambitious projects with an expanded level of expertise.
